Between

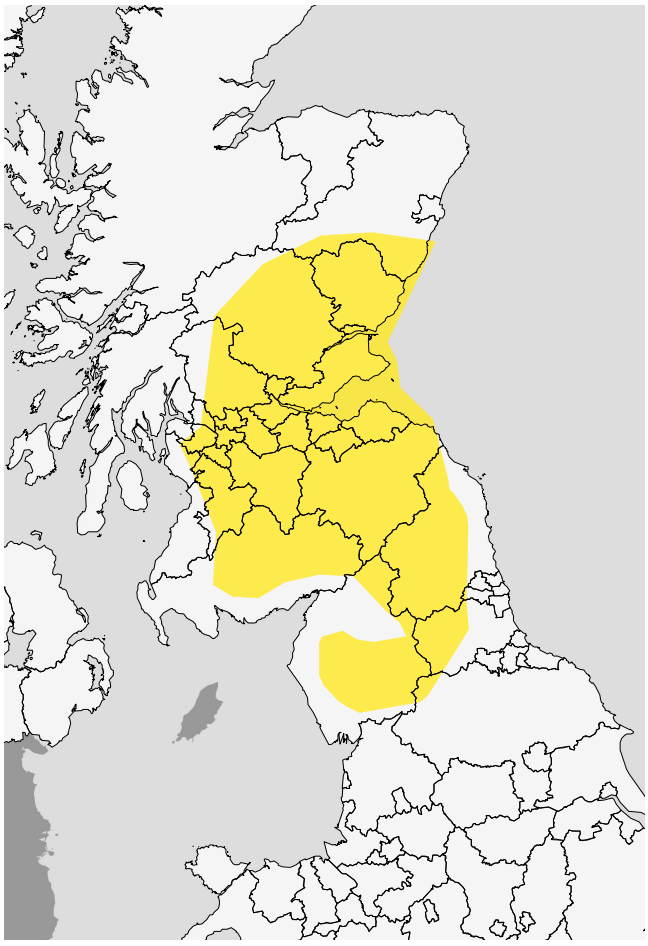
11:00 Mon 16 Dec 2019



Some icy surfaces again tonight and to start Monday.

What to expect

- Icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths
- Icy surfaces may make injuries or accidents more likely.

Further details

Areas of rain and hill snow seem likely to affect many areas for a time tonight, probably clearing by morning and allowing temperatures to dip more widely below zero. Icy stretches may be encountered, especially on untreated surfaces, while the odd high level road may see a further 1-2 cm of snow.

Reason for update

Area extended northwards given progress of precipitation overnight and cold surfaces.
